Every wondered what the judge is looking for in a showing class or how you could improve your showing skills?

What should you demonstrate during your "show" performance, what tack should you use and what is the appropriate clothing?

"Ring craft" (even inhand) can make a huge difference and help your horse/pony climb up the placings.

Come along to our showing clinic.....

Annick has over 18 years experience in showing. This ranges from showing Foals to Veterans, In-hand, Ridden and Lead Rein of all types including M&M, Hunters, Working Hunters, Sports horses, Riding horses, Ex Racehorses and Show ponies. When she initially started showing she was a young nervous girl who started at local level and worked her way up. Over the years she has competed at county level all over the country including the Royal International and many other big shows. Annick believes that showing, competing and owning horses should be fun. She takes pride in her turnout as this is a very easy way to gain an extra point.

This is a great opportunity for all levels and all age groups to come along and learn helpful hints, tips on turnout (including secret tips on products), ring craft and understand what the judges are looking for and help you gain those red rosettes. Annick will also be available for more one to one chats after the clinic if you wish. Sessions can be either ridden or entered inhand and you can do both if you wish.

In small groups Annick will discuss what showing classes would most suit your horse/pony and will work with you to improve your showing skills and knowledge. Please come turned out as if you were competing. Once you have entered online we can then group you as best we can.

Member: £20/person, Non-member £25/person (1hr shared session)
