Mandy Luesley FBHS – Simulator Lesson Clinic

Sunday 15th February – Writtle College

Daytime Sessions from 10:00

Simulated Horse Flatwork Private Lessons

Mandy Luesley is a Fellow of the British Horse Society (FBHS), one of the highest coaching accolades in the UK equestrian industry. With decades of experience across coaching, assessing, and mentoring, Mandy is widely respected for her deep knowledge of equestrian education and her supportive, insightful teaching style.

She is a Senior Assessor for BHS qualifications, regularly delivering training days and clinics across the country, including sessions focused on Stage 4 Care, Lunge, and Dressage Ride. Mandy is also a British Dressage Accredited Coach, holding multiple UKCC qualifications, and is actively involved in youth coaching, para coaching, and performance development.

Her clinics are known for blending technical precision with a clear understanding of rider psychology and horse biomechanics. Mandy's work with simulator lessons offers riders a unique opportunity to refine their position, feel, and effectiveness in a controlled and feedback-rich environment.

Whether you're preparing for BHS assessments or looking to improve your riding skills, Mandy brings a wealth of expertise and a passion for helping riders reach their full potential.
